GUARD LIBERTY, ENGLISH JURIST WARNS U. S. BAR

Chief Justice's Darts Make Drys Squirm.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

British, N. Y., Sept. 1.—[Special.]—Lord Chief Justice Hewart of England, introduced by Chief Justice Taft of the United States Supreme court, gave a picture tonight of the old "a man's house is his castle" doctrine. He made no reference to conditions in America, but to members of the American Bar association, $500 of whom he had, in his opinion, the right to throw into vivid contrast what happened in the land of the free under the eighteenth amendment and prohibition.

On two primates of the bench, Lord Hewart, both referred to the language of the common law as a great test of union between English speaking peoples.

Liberty Speaks Progress.

"The happiness we enjoy in our liberty," said Chief Justice Taft, "comes from the representative character of our popular institutions as we know them from England. Without the progress would have been impossible, and departure from it, in the future will be full of danger."

"The common law," said Lord Chief Justice Hewart, "is above all, founded on principles of justice and freedom. It is not a mere declaration of the rights of a sovereign or on the part of officials of a bureaucracy."

Justice Hewart amplified this with an example which led members of the audience to judge one another and pause with remarks comparing it with conditions of prohibition in breaking up homes without warrants, and with union constables sticking up a man to fan for pints.

Liberty to Be Sued.

"If, for example," he said, "the house secretary, at the instigation of the prime minister, were to order the arrest and detention of a person who was thought to be a public danger so that he remained at large, but was not charged with any offense, and the law was made, that person would be discharged from custody as well of habeas corpus, and both the prime minister and the secretary of state would be liable to be sued in the high court for damages for trespass and false imprisonment."

"The defendants in such a case might plead that the act complained of was an act of state that they were not bound to recognize the act of an act of state in an action by a British subject or by an alien within the realm; and even proof that the act of the state required that the plaintiff should be imprisoned would be no defense, but at most would be relied upon only in mitigation of damages. The plaintiff by payment of an act of indemnity would be the only means of relieving the defendants of liability."

Most highly valued liberties and privileges are, as you are well aware, derived from the common law.

Justice Hewart did not create any new law. It was merely a declaration of the rights of the common law."

THE WESTWARD PASSAGE

RETURNS PEARLS; WINS HELP FOR ALL HIS FAMILY

Eugene Ciesinski, 15, of 2529 South Eugene avenue, last night returned to Mrs. Walter J. Rinn, 2440 Lake View avenue, a pearl necklace valued at $14,500 which he had found near the Shakespeare monument in Lincoln park Wednesday afternoon. The necklace, Ciesinski told Mrs. Rinn, was lying in the grass beside a cigar coupon, where it had dropped. It is thought, after Mrs. Rinn's infant niece had pulled it from her neck. Ciesinski had come into the park to gather coupons, he said, and as he stooped down to add this one to his collection, he found the necklace. He took the pearls to John Hall, jeweler, at 2407 Lincoln avenue, who told him they were worth several thousand dollars.

Bewildered by the possession of so much wealth, the youth, on the advice of his father, John Ciesinski, waited to discover the owner from the want ads. On learning that the necklace belonged to Mrs. Rinn, Ciesinski attempted, he said, to get in touch with her throughout the day, but was not able to reach her until last night. Mrs. Rinn rewarded the young man with a check for $250, which he gave to his mother, who gave birth to her seventh child nine days ago. Mrs. Rinn, whose husband is said to be a wealthy manufacturer, told the family that she would look after them in the future.

GUARD HOME OF W. R. KIRK AFTER DEATH THREAT

Detectives employed by a private agency were stationed on the Lake Forest estate of Walter R. Kirk, millionaire soap manufacturer, last night after Mr. Kirk had received a threat of death unless he paid blackmail of $10,000.

The letter containing the demand was turned over to the postal authorities, who are endeavoring to trace the authorship. Mr. Kirk was informed that the money, in small bills, would have to be placed under a sidewalk west of Lake Bluff and near the Waukegan road.

According to the manufacturer, the letter apparently was the work of a crank. It was signed "Sympathiser of Sacco and Vanzetti." The postmark showed it had been mailed in Lake Forest on Sunday, but the envelope was not opened until Wednesday, when Mr. Kirk returned home from a trip.

3 Die, 4 Hurt in a Head-on Auto Collision

Returning last night at a high rate of speed from the training camp of Jack Dempsey, Lyman A. Stanton, an executive of the Prudential Life Insurance company, 11 South La Salle street, drove his auto head-on into the machine driven by Stanton belonged to Torrence avenue, near Chicago Heights, killing two men and a woman. Another woman and three boys were injured, perhaps fatally.

The dead are Frank Rokos of Holyoke, Mass., and Albert Vilman and his wife of Waterman, Ill. The injured are Mrs. Rokos, Albert Vilman, 13, John Greenhaas, 8, and Harold Bashpol, aged 2. All the injured were unconscious for several hours.

Girl With Insurance Man

With Stanton was Miss Georgia May List, who has been vacationing with her mother at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Her mother, when reached last night said that the machine driven by Stanton belonged to her and had been taken by the daughter without her permission. Stanton lives at 6750 Newgard avenue with his mother, Mrs. Henry L. Stanton.

Stanton told the Chicago Heights police that he failed both to see the approaching automobile and the stop light signal, which he overran just before striking the car.

Toll is Raised to $34.

With the death at the county hospital of Frank McCarthy, 39 years old, 104 North Dearborn street, the four fatalities increased the county toll for the year to $34. McCarthy was injured last Wednesday, when he was struck by a cab as he pursued a man with whom he had quarreled in a poolroom at 113 South Halsted street.

Dr. Frederick Juchoff, head of the economics department of the American university at Washington, D. C., suffered a fractured leg when he was struck by a truck in front of his home at 1505 East 60th street.

UNION REJECTS U. S. MEDIATION IN MOVIE TIEUP

Insist Shows Reopen Before Arbitration.

Two federal conciliators, who officially offered their services in an effort to settle the differences between Chicago's movie theater owners and the Motion Picture Operators' union, were told last night by union officials that there could be no negotiations until the owners called off their lock-out and put their operators back to work.

The owners, through their official spokesman, Jack Miller, announced that they were willing to put all questions involved into arbitration. It is understood that the conciliators, Fred Kelgity and Benjamin M. Marshman, will make further efforts today.

Other Unions Involved.

Relations between the theater owners, officially banded together as the Chicago Exhibitors' association, and two other unions, the stage hands' and the musicians', continued to complicate the situation. The stage hands, whose working agreement with the association has expired, are on strike and negotiations were in progress between the musicians and many of the theaters last night. The last meeting with the musicians adjourned at midnight without an agreement being reached. Another meeting will be held at 10 o'clock this morning.

Just why the association closed all theaters, with a gross revenue loss of $225,000 a day, was explained in detail last night by Miller. "There is no question of money involved," he said. "The association is not attempting to cut down the wages of any in any of the three unions. It is simply a matter of conditions and working forces. The owners are determined that they will no longer allow the unions and their business agents to force them to carry men on the payroll for whom they have no need."

Pay of Union Men Told.

Definite figures from the records of Balaban & Katz, who control the largest chain of picture theaters in the city, were produced to show how much work is done by the individuals now either on strike or locked out and how much they get for it.

At the Chicago theater twelve stage hands are employed. One of these, W. Okie, has been paid a total of $4,595 in the eight months since Jan. 1. His lowest weekly wage was $110 and his highest $123.

Another stage hand, J. Demsky, drew $4,458—eight months' work. It was explained by John Balaban, of the Balaban & Katz firm, that the work did not require any special skill, except on the part of one electrician, and that that work stage hands did was to work two performances of about fifty minutes each.

Describe Stage Duties

"The stage hand on the first shift comes at 10 a. m.," he said. "Such shifting of scenery as is done, and there is little except on Monday, comes during the two de luxe performances. The men alternate, staying fifty-six hours one week and forty-nine the next."

"We have to keep twelve stage hands at the Chicago, six on each shift. We could get along with four on each shift. And anything these men do outside of the ordinary routine, even though it's done on regular time, is counted as overtime. We employ a total of fifty-one stage hands in all our theaters and their average wages exceed $104 a week."

He then told of having two stage hands in the Roosevelt theater, where there is no stage show. One turns on the light when he comes in the morning. The other turns them off when he leaves at night. In eight months one of these men drew $1,511 and the other $1,535, Mr. Balaban said.

Declaring he had reliable information, Mr. Balaban said that in the legitimate theaters stage hands were so plentiful that actors sometimes had difficulty pushing their way through the crowd to answer their cues. He cited one show that had five actors, nineteen stage hands and only one set.

$5 a Week for Operators.

As for the operators, they have a five hour day, except in the downtown show houses, where they work forty-two hours a week. It was stated. The scale downtown is $5 a week and in the large outlying theaters $30, but in all the larger houses, it is said, the operators are paid more.

Giant Bluebird Returns After 100 Mile Hop

BULLETIN.

LE BOURGET, France, Sept. 2.—(AP)—After starting out to fly across the Atlantic to New York at 6:21 o'clock this morning, the biplane Bluebird returned and landed here at 10 a. m. Two planes, which intended to accompany the transatlantic plane to the coast, landed just before the Bluebird and reported that it struck a dense fog 100 miles from Paris.

BULLETIN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The American round-the-world plane, Bride of Detroit, hopped off here at 5:20 o'clock this morning for Aleppo and Baghdad. The airmen, William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee, hoped to reach Baghdad, about 1,075 miles from Constantinople, by 4:30 p. m.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Sept. 2.—From the same spot from which Nungesser and Coll hopped off on May 8 on their ill-fated venture which inaugurated this year's mad scramble to fly across the oceans, two young French airmen, Leon Givon and Pierre Corbu took off from Le Bourget field at 6:30 this morning on an attempted non-stop flight to New York.

As the first rays of rising sun broke over the airport the two aviators took to the cockpit of their giant Farman biplane, The Bluebird, and waved goodby.

Barely Misses Trees.

The twelve ton plane necessitated a long taxi, but after a few bumps it rose gracefully. There was a tense moment as the plane neared the end of the field when the airmen found they would not be able to clear a fringe of trees. They looped their plane, with only a few feet to spare, circled the field, and straightened out for Brest.

It was only a few minutes before the take-off that the airmen decided to follow the northern route which, if they have no mishaps will bring them to the coast of Nova Scotia, avoiding the foggy waters of Newfoundland. It previously had been decided to take the southern route over the Azores and the Bahamas.

Plane Is Fuelled.

The two men arrived on the field at about 11 o'clock last night and supervised the fueling of the plane which carries 2,113 gallons of gasoline. Among the throngs that saw the take-off were Mme. Givon, Mlle. Corbu, the navigator's sister, and Mme. Nungesser, mother of the lost flyer.

15 LOST IN SEA FLIGHTS IN 1927; 12 KNOWN DEAD

At 11:30 p. m. the aviators telephoned back here from St. John's, Que., saying that their plane had been forced down when a wing took fire. They hope to make repairs and resume the flight tomorrow.

Anxiety Over Princess.

Heavy fog prevails off eastern Newfoundland, where watchers are hoping to sight the monoplane St. Raphael. However, it was reported today that the wind off the coast had veered and was coming from the northeast, which would favor the west bound flyers.

Of the thousands who watched eagerly for the arrival of the St. Raphael no one was more interested than the prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, who arrived in Montreal this morning from Ottawa.

Both princes made frequent inquiries as to the news and, when informed there was none showed marked anxiety. They had hoped to see the plane passing over Montreal on its way to Ottawa this afternoon. The princes were also much interested in the progress of the two Canadian planes, which are flying to England and announced hopes for their success.

Newfoundland on Watch.

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., Sept. 1.—(AP)—This town, which has become a terminal point for trans-Atlantic flights, tonight kept vigil for three planes, two eastward, the other westward, across the Atlantic.

At 9 o'clock, local time, which corresponds to 4:30 o'clock eastern standard time, the English monoplane, Princess Louise, was sighted. It was a pilot, and was on its way to England.

Two Canada Flyers Forced Down.

BULLETIN.

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Sept. 1.—(U. P.)—At 9:30 a. m. tonight the forty-three hours had elapsed during which, under most favorable flying conditions, the monoplane St. Raphael was considered capable of remaining in the air. It is believed certain here that the plane is down-on sea or land.

The plane left Upton, England, at 2:30 a. m. (eastern daylight time) Wednesday. No definite word of it has been heard since it passed the Irish coast at 7 a. m. (eastern daylight time) Wednesday. That was thirty-eight hours ago.

BULLETIN.

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., Sept. 1.—(AP)—At midnight local time (9:30 p. m. eastern standard time) virtually every one actively interested in the trans-Atlantic monoplane St. Raphael dropped casual vigil which had begun at dawn. The signal station above St. John's, which was held open for possible flight reports, closed down at midnight, believing a further watch hopeless.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 1.—While anxiety was increasing today for the fate of two British aviators and their passenger, the 61 year old Princess Louise, who had hopped off from Upton, England, bound for Ottawa, Ont., four other airmen in two planes made a start from two Canadian cities on a trans-Atlantic flight to destinations in England.

The St. Raphael, in which the princess was riding with Col. F. F. Minchin and Capt. Leslie Hamilton, was expected somewhere over eastern Canada by 1 p. m. (eastern daylight time, today, at the latest. But though a close watch has been kept throughout eastern Canada, no trace of the plane has been reported.

Two Planes Bound for England.

The two planes which took off from Canadian cities today are the St. John's Carling and the Royal Windsor, and they didn't get far.

The St. John's Carling, a monoplane, which took off from London, Ont., at 8:24 a. m. for London, England, passed over south of Montreal at 11:30 a. m. and continued on for Harbor Grace, Newfoundland. In the plane were Capt. Terry Tully and Lieut. James Macleod. Tonight messages were received here announcing that the plane was forced down by bad weather at Caribou, Me., at 6 p. m.

The Royal Windsor, also a monoplane, which took off from Windsor, Ont., at 8:19 a. m. today, bound for Windsor, England, passed over Montreal at 4:50 p. m. C. A. ("Duke") Schiller, pilot and Paul Wood is navigator.

At 11:30 p. m. the aviators telephoned back here from St. John's, Que., saying that their plane had been forced down when a wing took fire. They hope to make repairs and resume the flight tomorrow.

ant pilot, was many hours overdue in his flight from Upaven, England, where it was reported yesterday morning for Ottawa, Canada. From the early hours of the morning lighthouses and wireless stations along the Newfoundland coast had kept watch in vain for the plane.

To the westward eyes were turned in search of the Canadian plane, Sir John Carling, expected to land on the Harbor Grace flying field tonight, completing the first leg of a flight from London, Ont., to London, England.

As the time drew near for the plane to arrive crowds gathered from the settlements along Conception Bay to greet Capt. Terry Tuohy and Lieut. James Medcalf, pilot and navigator of the monoplane. Later in the night the monoplane Royal Windsor, attempting a nonstop flight from Windsor, Ont., to Windsor, England, was expected to pass over the colony.

A light northeast wind prevailed throughout the afternoon, but light and visibility continued low, unfavorable conditions for the long distance flyers.

Although it was believed that the St. Raphael, still in the air, had passed unseen over the colony, light-houses, and radio stations continued on the alert tonight and there were rumors that the flying field to guide the pilot to a landing should he reach Newfoundland far behind schedule.

Ottawa Rumors Prove False.
OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 1.—(A.P.)—Crowds estimated at 15,000 gathered at the capital's main airport tonight to welcome the monoplane St. Raphael, but no definite word came from the east of the plane and its three occupants, Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, Capt. Minchin, and Col. Minchin.

The throng frequently burst into cheers, however, when word was proved erroneous, the sighting of airplanes at various points in the eastern provinces was received at Lindbergh field. Federal government officials checked on each report and each proved false.

A Canadian government plane sent out to search for the missing trans-Atlantic plane circled over Montreal, giving rise to reports there that one of the three planes had passed over the city. Not until the plane returned to the field here was it learned that it had been mistaken for flyers engaged in a trans-Atlantic flight.

The government radio station at Belle Isle reported clear, calm weather with no information on the St. Raphael. Other stations along the St. Lawrence river sent similar messages.

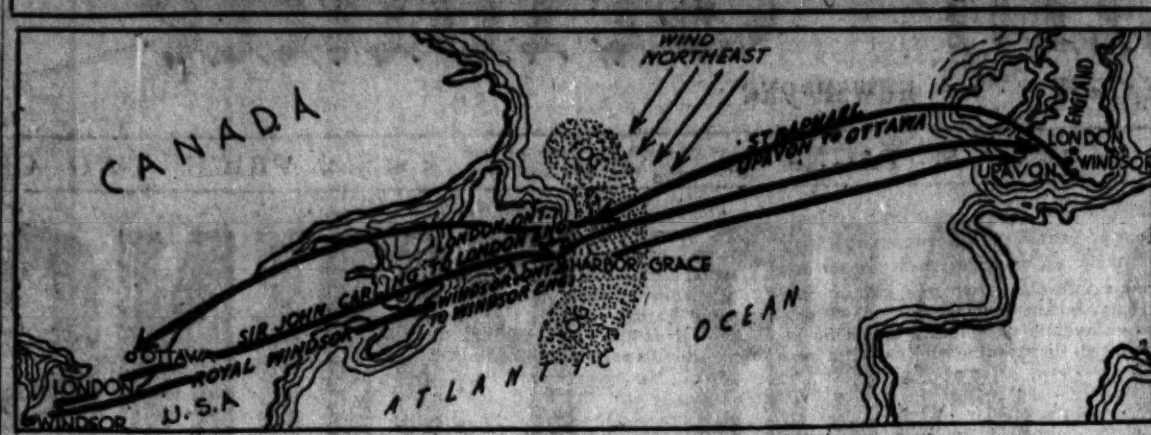

Government air force and radio officials were unable tonight to verify a widely circulated rumor that the monoplane St. Raphael, flying from Upaven, England, to Ottawa, had been forced down about 700 miles from here because of lack of fuel. The rumor seemed to have no definite basis.

London Fears for Princess.
LONDON, Sept. 1.—(A.P.)—British hopes and fears hover nervously over the Atlantic tonight. The monoplane "St. Raphael," with Capt. Hamilton, Col. Minchin, and Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim aboard, now is so many hours overdue, after making the greatest allowances for slower speed than it was thought it would develop, that hopes still held in the afternoon grew fainter and fainter as the night wore on.

The plane has a supply of gasoline sufficient only for 44 hours' flying, and unless heard from within a few hours, the fate of the flyers necessarily must arouse the greatest anxiety.

The air ministry has had no news since the report from an unknown source last night, stating: "Going strong at 11:30," which, it was assumed, came from a steamer in the

PLANNED ROUTES OF THREE TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHTS

Atlantic. Since then there has been complete silence.

Hope Off for Windsor.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 1.—(A.P.)—The great yellow monoplane, Royal Windsor, with C. J. "Duke" Schiller at the controls and Phil Wood in the navigator's seat, zoomed down the level stretch of Walker field at 8:18 a. m. today, bearing messages of good will from the border cities of Canada to Windsor, England. Between rows of anxious spectators the plane roared, banking gradually to disappear over the horizon on its 4,000 mile flight across Canada and the Atlantic ocean.

Trailing the plane part of its way was the automobile driven by Gar Wood, internationally known speedboat enthusiast and brother of Phil Wood, bearing Mrs. Helen Wood, Miss Ada Greer, Schiller's fiancée, and members of the Wood family, waving their farewells.

Stored away in the fuselage was a speech, bearing the words, "Nungesser-Coll" which the flyers hope to drop in the ocean as a memorial to the heroic French flyers who gave their lives in an attempt to cross the Atlantic.

The route planned by the airmen follows generally the line of the St. Lawrence river for a greater part of the overland distance, swinging to the east and to Harbor Grace, N. F., and then out over the ocean.

TURKEY O. K.'S FLIGHT

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 1.—(A.P.)—Official permission was received tonight by the American aviators, Brock and Schlee, from the Turkish government, to fly over Turkey. The pride of Detroit will therefore hop off for Baghdad, Iraq, at 5 a. m. tomorrow, weather permitting.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, Aug. 31.—[Delayed.]—At our last stop, Belgrade, where the Jugo-Slav military officials received us, we were accorded a cordial reception and a great ovation from the populace. As we prepared to leave we were more than pleased to find that three pursuit planes under our official Jugo-Slav host, Maj. Tomich, were to accompany us. These planes escorted us for fifty miles and finally dropped away with a salute and left us to continue our trip to Asia.

It was a strange feeling, this leaving Europe behind us when we lost the muddy blue of the Danube and

The map shows the proposed routes of three trans-Atlantic flights latest to be undertaken.

The monoplane St. Raphael, carrying the 62 year old Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, left Upaven airbase, England, early Wednesday for Ottawa, Ont. No word of the plane has been heard since it passed the Irish coast. A close watch is being kept for it at all eastern Canada points, but hope is almost gone.

picked up the course of the Maritimes. We passed over a semi-oriental Sofia with its domes reminiscent of the old Turkish rule, white and gleaming, and exchanged the well filled fields of the surrounding territory for the barren, brown, sun scorched fields of Turkish Thrace.

On the course we passed Adrianople, and, since the famous Turkish military zone, interferred, we followed the advice of Maj. Tomich, and made south for Silvi on the Turkish coast. Here we cut across the Aegean corner, passing over its warm, blue island studded waters for the Marmora, where we had our first glimpse of Asia.

The weather was perfect and the visibility good, so we saw from our height of 4,500 feet, which we evenly maintained, the Asiatic Olympus gleaming under its snow in the midst of a hot, mountainous country.

Following the Marmora coast we soon picked up the little town of San Stefano, with its minarets and dark groves of cypress. Here we landed on the Turkish government field, to be greeted by a lone American woman, who helped to interpret.

We are glad to spend a night in a hotel, but have no time to see the sights of this historic city. Our instruments and engine have worked perfectly so far and we hope the same good luck attends us for the rest of the trip.

The St. John Carling hopped off from London, Ont., for a flight to London, England. It came down last night at Carlow, Ire.

The Royal Windsor took off from Windsor, Ont., for Windsor, England, but was forced down at St. John's, Que., which is a short distance southeast of Montreal.

picked up the course of the Maritimes. We passed over a semi-oriental Sofia with its domes reminiscent of the old Turkish rule, white and gleaming, and exchanged the well filled fields of the surrounding territory for the barren, brown, sun scorched fields of Turkish Thrace.

On the course we passed Adrianople, and, since the famous Turkish military zone, interferred, we followed the advice of Maj. Tomich, and made south for Silvi on the Turkish coast. Here we cut across the Aegean corner, passing over its warm, blue island studded waters for the Marmora, where we had our first glimpse of Asia.

The weather was perfect and the visibility good, so we saw from our height of 4,500 feet, which we evenly maintained, the Asiatic Olympus gleaming under its snow in the midst of a hot, mountainous country.

Following the Marmora coast we soon picked up the little town of San Stefano, with its minarets and dark groves of cypress. Here we landed on the Turkish government field, to be greeted by a lone American woman, who helped to interpret.

Because we lacked a permit to fly over Turkish soil, Col. Smith, military attaché of the American embassy, took charge of us and we regrettably

WOODSTOCK POSTMASTER ON BOOZE CHARGES

Others Taken; Pouse Believed Suicide.

Postmaster N. F. Stellen of Woodstock, Ill., former Sheriff Lester Ed. Stellen of McHenry county, and three other persons were arrested yesterday on warrants charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. They are accused of operating a beer running racket in McHenry county.

Stellen's Attorney Alfred H. Pouse, who disappeared Sunday, also was named in the warrants.

The recent arrests are Jacob Stellen, Stephen Heimer and Fred Stellen. Search is being continued for Pouse and Sonny Grommes, alleged beer runners. The warrants for the eight were issued by United States Commissioner Henry C. Beltter at the request of District Attorney George E. Johnson.

Five Brought to Chicago. A squad of deputy United States marshals and prohibition agents sought the men throughout the entire county. Those arrested were brought to a Chicago police station. Bonds set under the warrants range from $1,500 to $10,000.

Federal authorities announced that the warrants were sought in an effort to obtain assurance that the other persons named with Stellen's Attorney Pouse would not flee.

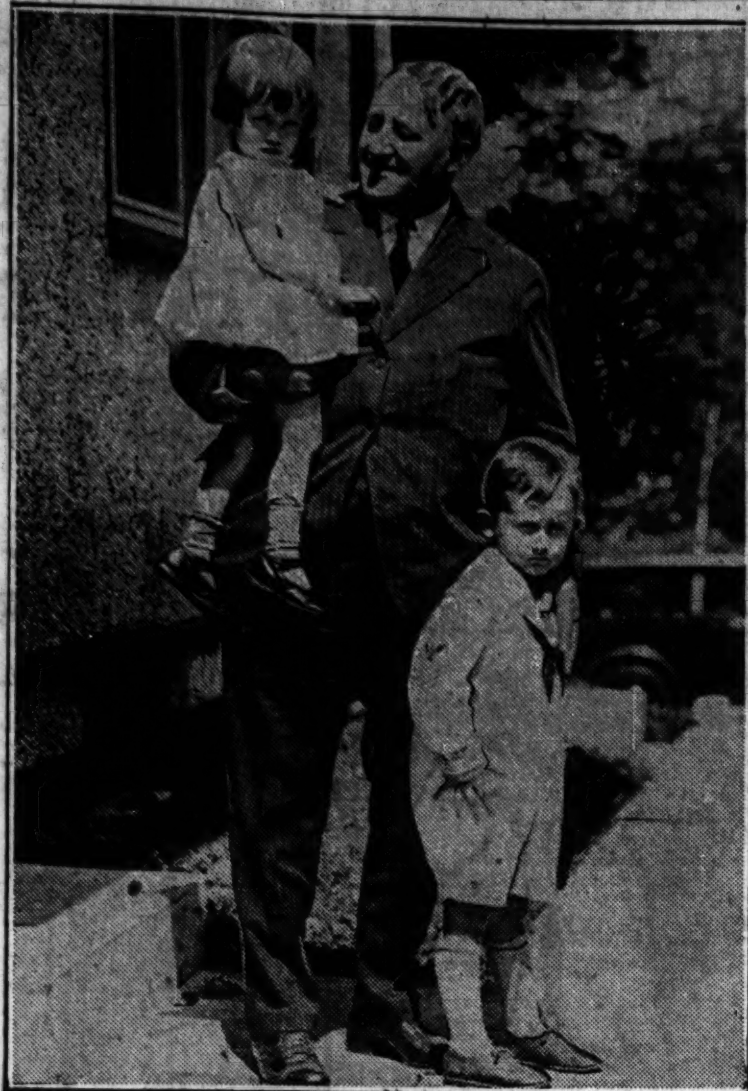

Woodstock townsmen of Pouse, who resided in Woodstock, yesterday expressed the belief that the prosecutor had committed suicide. Another theory was that he had fled to Canada, as was last seen at his home on Sunday evening.

Alleged Head of Beer Ring. Pouse, according to government authorities, was the head of the ring that controlled protection of beer running in McHenry county. Postmaster Stellen and Edinger are accused of having been the collectors for the ring. A levy of $10 for each barrel of beer manufactured, transported or sold in the county, is alleged to have been demanded.

Grommes is alleged to have led the beer runners, having protection during the period from January to March of this year. Then Grommes is said to have resorted from the syndicate and set out on his own, heavily armed, according to prosecutors. Lyons resorted to Grommes' position with the ring.

Grand Jury Quits Promised. That the entire situation in McHenry county will be taken before the September grand jury, despite the disappearance of Pouse, was promised yesterday by federal authorities. It is said that the district attorney will ask a blanket indictment naming from forty to fifty persons, including the eight for whom warrants were issued. Belief that Pouse would commit suicide was generally expressed in Woodstock. On Saturday he deeded to his mother, Mrs. Josephine Pouse, his home at 487 West Jackson street, Woodstock, and a piece of vacant property in McHenry. His wife and child, Alfred Jr., were reported yesterday as being in the care of friends in Woodstock.

The wife, Mrs. Eleanor Pouse, has been suffering with creeping paralysis since the birth of the child, three years ago.

Pouse cashed a salary check for $300 in a Woodstock bank last Saturday. A report was received at prohibition headquarters yesterday that he had gone to Canada.

The resignation of Pouse as state's attorney of McHenry county was received in the morning mail yesterday at Springfield. The letter said: "I hereby resign as state's attorney of McHenry county, Ill., to be effective Sept. 1, 1927."

MCCRAY'S JOY IS UNRESTRAINED AS HE RETURNS HOME

Asks to Be Left Alone, So Jury Won't Call Him.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Happily reunited with his family after his parole from the Atlanta penitentiary, where he had served more than three years of a ten year sentence for fraud, Warren T. McCray, former governor of Indiana, on his return here today, earnestly expressed the hope that he would not be called as a witness before the Marion county grand jury.

The grand jury has been investigating charges that Gov. Ed Jackson, when secretary of state, had offered $10,000 to McCray with an implied promise that no jury would convict him if he would appoint as prosecuting attorney a man whom local Republican politicians wished to see named to the place.

Jury Won't Call Him. It was learned late today that members of the grand jury, after learning that McCray didn't wish to be called, had agreed to consent to his wish.

His face beaming with smiles as he mingled with members of his family, McCray at times showed the flash of eye and determined chin which characterized his demeanor when he was governor. He said:

"I have taken my medicine. I hope I have taken it like a man. I don't want to get back into politics again. All I want is to be with my family and to repay them for what they have done for me."

The train on which McCray came Evades Station Crowds. To Indianapolis was stopped about ten blocks from the Union station so the former governor could avoid the crowd that had gathered to welcome him.

"This is the happiest day in my life," McCray said with much emotion as he patted his two grandchildren, one of whom he had never seen.

"Life starts anew with me from this day, and I expect to stay in Indiana a good while yet if they will let me."

"I don't know what I'll do yet," McCray said. "I may have something to say later on—soon, perhaps. Right now I just want to be happy."

SEIZE 3 ACCUSED OF BEATING U. S. LIQUOR SLEUTH

Mrs. Florence McGann, Miss Gladys McBean, and William McGann, all of 6247 Blackstone avenue, were arrested last night on charges of assault and battery and resisting a government officer. The three are alleged to have beaten Prohibition Agent Paul Shoop.

Shoop, on vacation, said he saw McGann unloading two five gallon cans from an automobile into the Blackstone avenue basement. When he attempted to examine the cans he was set upon by McGann and the two women, Shoop said.

A raiding squad of police and dry agents confiscated six bottles of home brew in an ice box in the flat and twenty empty five gallon cans in the basement.

BRAZIL TRAILS LATEST CLEW TO FLYER REDFERN

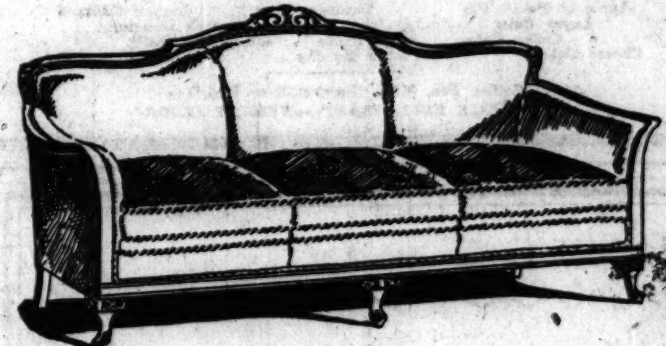

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The whereabouts of Paul R. Redfern, the Georgia aviator who disappeared since starting his "solo" flight from Brunswick, Ga., to Brazil on Aug. 25, remained an unsolved mystery at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Up to that time no confirmation was received here of an earlier, circumstantial report that Redfern had "fallen down" near Alemquer, in the state of Para.

The Brazilian government, to prevent the dissemination of misleading reports, has ordered all land, cable, and radio stations not to give to the public the slightest news of the aviator until it is flashed to Rio de Janeiro, so that the government may inform Edwin Morgan, the American ambassador.

LEVINE FIXES UP ROW OVER PILOT; TO CIRCLE EARTH

Almost Loses Services of Capt. Hinchcliffe.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Copyright, 1927, By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Levine-Hinchcliffe transatlantic pact seemed to be shattered this afternoon when the Imperial Airways demanded $10,000 from the millionaire flyer in return for the services of their star pilot, Capt. Walter G. Hinchcliffe, in addition to life insurance.

The difficulty, however, was smoothed over at a conference between Capt. Hinchcliffe and his employers after a morning confab was broken up with Mr. Levine flatly refusing the Imperial Airways' demand in view of the fact that the pilot had been given a three weeks' leave of absence.

Levine Insures Pilot's Life.
The settlement was said to be on a basis of Capt. Hinchcliffe's returning to the company after three weeks and of Mr. Levine insuring the pilot's life in the meantime for $10,000.

"There is no difficulty between myself and the Imperial Airways regarding flying Mr. Levine's plane, the Columbia," Capt. Hinchcliffe told the Times after his conference. "My employers have most generously waived their personal interests, given me a leave of absence and allowed me to place my services at the disposal of Mr. Levine. Immediately this flight is accomplished, I will return to the Imperial Airways for their sportsmanship."

Meanwhile, the flyers are watching the weather reports, which were

$40,000 IS ALREADY WON, $75,000 IS LEFT IN PRIZES FOR FLYING

New York, Sept. 1.—The sum of $40,000 in prize money has been won by transatlantic flyers this year and $75,000 more is still awaiting others who may be successful.

Two planes were competing today for the $25,000 prize offered by Sir John Guggenheim for a London-to-London flight. Capt. Terry Tully and Lieut. James McKeown took off from London, Ont., for London, England, and when the St. Raphael took off from Upavon, England, yesterday, it was announced that it might fly beyond Ottawa, its objective, to London, Ont., to qualify for the prize.

A $25,000 prize for the first flight from Europe to Philadelphia has been offered by Philadelphia merchants, and the Boston chamber of commerce recently announced that it would raise $25,000 for the first flight from Europe to Boston.

The $25,000 Ortey prize for the first flight from New York to Paris was won by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, and a $15,000 purse offered by the Brooklyn chamber of commerce was won by Clarence D. Chamberlin's New York to Germany flight.

highly unfavorable today, as well as the progress of the Minchin-Hamilton flight with Princess Lowenstein Wertheim. The moment news is received of the success of this flight, Mr. Levine will swing his goal eastward, he says, in long hops, the first stop being Karachi, India, a flight of a night and a day, to beat William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee around the world.

Mr. Levine today was a guest at luncheon of Mabel Boll, former Syracuse, N. Y., girl and now known in Paris as the "Diamond Queen." Mr. Levine said he would not consider accepting her as a passenger.

Harry Craddock, American bartender, now of the Savoy hotel, who claims he mixed the last cocktail in America before prohibition, today presented the flyer with a nifty shaker containing the ingredients for four dry martinis to carry to America.

4 INCHES BELOW KNEE IS COLLEGE RULE ON SKIRTS

Young women who are planning to attend Emmanuel Missionary college, the Seventh Day Adventist institution at Berrien Springs, Mich., will be forced to agree to the regulation that the college board has just adopted for their dress before they are admitted during the coming year. The rule is: "Dresses worn by the students attending Emmanuel Missionary college for the school year of 1927 and 1928 shall reach at least four inches below the lower part of the knee."

The board further requests that ministers' and teachers' wives, and any one in college or around the college, and in the academies give attention to this recommendation, and lend it their influence by conforming to it themselves.

"This limit in the length of the dress was made for the young students, and it is expected that many of the older students and the wives of ministers and teachers will have the dresses longer than the limit of four inches below the knee," the board's statement says.

CALLES WARNS OF MENACE IN U. S. RELATIONS

President Sees
Peril in Indecision.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—President Calles' visit before congress with a request that the relations with the United States be characterized by indecision. He spoke of the controversy centered over the application of Article 27 of the constitution of 1917 and called it dangerous.

President Calles took occasion to tell the congress that the government would tolerate no interference in the campaign. A careful review of the financial situation, he said, had convinced him that the government must continue to pay its interest on foreign debt.

The chief executive ascribed the reason for the central states to the lack of unity and said it had been put down.

Mr. Calles' speech.
"The international life of Mexico," President Calles' message set forth, "is characterized by two contradictory aspects: a friendship with some nations; a menace to others. It is in order to get along with other countries it should adopt foreign models in the conduct of the national dignity. It accepts and even desires cooperation

CLEWS GO WRONG AS SEARCH FOR HILL CONTINUES

Several false reports at Stretcher, Ill., as to the hiding place of Harry Hill, 22, hunted on the charge of matricide, did not deter the authorities there yesterday.

In the first place the Stretcher residents who knew young Hill cannot believe he could be guilty of killing his own mother. They think some other explanation eventually will come.

The circumstances throwing suspicion on Harry are these: He hired a man to tramp down the ground over the grave of his mother in the basement of their home, instructed the laborer to put back the brick pavement when the ground had settled. He had forged his mother's name to several checks, and according to one witness, was to be disinherited by his mother who left an estate of over $30,000.

In addition, a .22 revolver had been known to be in his possession, and Mrs. Hill was killed with a bullet of that caliber. Harry, too, was at home several days after his mother's death, and he fled immediately after the body was discovered by his father who suspected that all wasn't well.

The Stretcher people are waiting for Harry's arrest and his story of what happened.

sustained by the great government of the republic.

"Mexico, the international personality of which on this continent is a faithful barometer for the observation of social problems, sustains with unbreakable vigor and courage this difficult and dangerous role."

"It does not admit that in order to get along with other countries it should adopt foreign models in the conduct of the national dignity. It accepts and even desires cooperation with all foreigners, but this must be in harmony with the Mexicans. These last are the indisputable owners of their country."

"We grant to friends and strangers the hospitality of the country. We welcome capital in good faith, but on condition that it respects and conforms to the laws of Mexico."

Relations with United States.

"It unfortunately, as it happens frequently, obstacles beset such principles, obstacles which it is difficult for our country to confront, it will continue to bear itself with serene mind, with right intentions, and with patriotic resolution, convinced beforehand that in such difficult conflict the relations with the United States, as fundamental in our international life for obvious reasons of proximity and large commercial interests, will assume unfortunately a character of indecision that frequently brings about disagreement and even animosity in the polemic sustained by the two governments."

"There even take place acts which the executive considers deplorable. These hurt the national feelings, which desire only a constant and cordial friendship with the United States, and injuriously affect commerce and business, and hinder our peaceful development."

Trouble Over Petroleum Laws.

"The fundamental difficulties with the government of the United States center, as it is universally known, in the application of the laws derived from article 27 of the constitution. To date, the disagreement with the officials at Washington deals principally with the general character of the aforesaid statutes."

"The Washington officials have never presented to the government of Mexico evidence of concrete acts of aggression against foreign capital invested in the petroleum industry, whose rebellion and defiance of the laws are such as no independent country can admit."

"I hope that in due time a spirit of good will and cordial understanding of our problems will wait over the arid debate between the two countries."

WOMEN WARNED OF HARMFUL AIDS TO BEAUTY

Medical Assn. Finds Some Cosmetics Dangerous.

Those of the fair sex experimenting with various kinds of cosmetics in their search for added attractiveness often become the victims of manufacturers whose beauty products tend to destroy rather than enhance the customer's good looks, it was asserted yesterday.

Three groups of cosmetic preparations in particular are objectionable. Some hair dyes, certain hair removers and many of the so-called skin bleaches or freckle removers.

These dangers are summed up in the recent report on cosmetics made by the bureau of investigation of the American Medical association, 535 North Dearborn street. Under supervision of the director, Dr. Arthur J. Cramp, scores of doubtful beauty aids sold to American women have been thoroughly analyzed. The bureau previously has compiled exposures of every known form of medical and medicinal quackery.

Most Products Harmless.

"Most of the preparations marketed today by responsible and reputable firms are free from harmful ingredients," Dr. Cramp asserted. "But, as in all large industries, occasional black sheep creep in."

"Take, for example, the manufacture of hair dyes. A great many people dye their hair. They use preparations that often prove harmful and are vouched for with false and misleading claims."

Hair dyes of the aniline type, he pointed out, are responsible for skin inflammations, some cases being so severe as to endanger life. Other kinds containing lead salt, silver salt, and copper pyrogallol were cited as dangerous owing to the hazard of absorbing the poisons into the system.

Hair Removers Often Hurt.

Hair removers, or depilatories, most often are of the resin or sulphide type. The first named is used as a wax to pull out the hairs. It is merely uncomfortable. The sulphide type is used to dissolve hair and accordingly is held to be dangerous. As the structure of the hair is practically identical with that of the outer skin, anything strong enough to destroy one may injure the other.

In recent years the cosmetic market has been flooded with an avalanche of complexion clays and packs. These were not found to be particularly dangerous, Dr. Cramp said, but have been sold at immense profits. He declared that twenty cents worth of kaolin (dried clay) purchased from a drug store and mixed with water will give a beauty clay equal to and purer than products sold at from $2 to $10 a pound.

Women's fashions of late have given stimulus, it was said, to another branch of quackery, which has been completely exposed by the bureau of investigation. This branch is made up by the exploiters of obesity cures guaranteeing to remove fat.

Runaway Boys Bargain and Escape a Spanking

On Wednesday Louis Monnier, 13, and his 8 year old brother, Robert, ran away from their home at 2633 Wilson avenue. They slept that night under a hedge. Yesterday they went home and escaped a spanking. Louis had called his mother and informed her that they would come back if she would promise not to punish them. The agreement was made.

It is but a few years since beauty was a sin—a few years since originality was odd—since slippers were boots! . . . It is but a little while since women dared to be different—invited individuality—and found themselves! It is but a mere decade since I. Miller came to Chicago with new visions of beauty in footwear—of slippers styled by Paris—sponsored by the stage—and accepted by the new woman of that time. . . . It is, as he acutely appreciates, to the leaders of style that he owes his extraordinary success in America, and so it is to those leaders of fashion in Chicago—his own clientele—that he most gratefully dedicates his new establishment opening today.

10,000 MILE TRIP BARES DISTRESS IN SOVIET RUSSIA

Reds Hope for Utopia in Spice of Conditions.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.
Red Russia isn't such a bad place for Red Russians, but it's a hell of a place for others, says E. M. Newman, travel lecturer, who returned yesterday after a 10,000 mile trip in Russia.
"Few persons have anything approximating a true report of conditions in Soviet land," he declared. "The censorship is worse than strict. It's inspired by fear, as existed in France during the reign of terror, every one suspecting every one else, unable to trust any one or believe any one."
"Their secret police are indeed secret, not known to each other nor to their own families or neighbors. A chance word might mean death, so no one complains."

Risks Life for Pictures.
Mr. Newman brought back with him nearly 2,000 pictures taken in Russia "at the risk of my life," he said, "despite official permission to take them."
For thirty-five years Newman has been a world traveler. During twenty-five of those years he has been a lecturer. Seven times he traveled around the world, and he saw Russia in the days of the czar as well as in the present communistic era.
"There's no use of fooling ourselves," he counseled. "The communist government is there to stay. I really believe that if put to a popular vote 90 per cent would favor it."
He tells why. Under the czar the peasants or muziks had little or nothing and were under the heels of the Cossacks. The first thing done after the overthrow of the government was the distribution of the land. Now any one who wants it can have a piece of ground to till and live on but not to own.

All Equal Except Rulers.
All persons are equal, Russians, Jews, Chinese, Negroes, feeble-minded, lazy, worker, thinker, and artisan—all except the rulers, and those rule even as the czar dared not. They are not grafters, in Mr. Newman's opinion, but they are piling up an enormous sum of money for the government.
He says no one else there may make money, no one is allowed to export a thing. The farmers may have as much of their own products as they need for their own living. The government takes the rest. None may do any importing; no food, clothing, or commodity of any kind is imported.
The government, though, does both importing and exporting. It has contracted for its oil, manganese, etc., to other countries and it imports machinery and other necessities for the rebuilding of Russia.
"The government is based on state

WED AGAIN

MRS. LOIS MANNING.

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 1.—Lieut. Benjamin Manning and Mrs. Lois Manning, divorced recently from Horace Dodge Jr., Detroit motor magnate, were married here today at the vacation home of Kenneth Harlan. Mr. Harlan and Jerome Weller were witnesses. Manning is in the coast artillery. He was a widower and long has been a friend of his bride. After the wedding breakfast, consisting of one doughnut each, the couple disappeared.

capitalism," Mr. Newman explained. "All the key industries and factories are in the hands of the state, which owns all the land and buildings."
"As one of the leading bolsheviks said to me, 'In your country you claim that all men are equal but they are not; here they are equal.' I asked him what about the incompetent, the man who will not work. 'Why should we punish them for a fault born in them or a disease?' he asked. 'They get fed even though they do not earn their keep.'"
"The professional men are declassified. The worker comes first. A doctor couldn't treat any professional man, say a newspaper reporter, until he has first made the rounds of all his worker patients. It's the same with food, the same with everything."
"Russia does grant some concessions. For instance, they might permit me to operate a bakery. The government store is open at 8 o'clock and there is one clerk to wait on perhaps five hundred women who must stand in line. A bakery permitted to be privately owned may not open until 10 o'clock and must close at 4 o'clock, and the employees must be given two hours for lunch."
"The privately owned business is compelled to charge 30 per cent more than the government prices—which discourages business for them—and they are so heavily taxed they cannot stand it. Hence the government has little competition."

"The housing conditions in cities are deplorable. There is a shortage of homes even though all the palaces have been turned over to the workers."
"Sixty or seventy men sleep in one room. The women also sleep together in much the same fashion. Husband and wife cannot have rooms for themselves. Fifty or more families use the same kitchen."
"There is no such thing as a bathroom. Unclad men and women use the same bathing beaches. It is nothing unusual to see hundreds of persons of both sexes nude on the beaches."
"There is little if any professional prostitution because there is no incentive for it. The men have no money, jewelry, clothing or liquors to give. Divorce, too, is rare because the husband must pay 30 per cent of his income for his wife, and there is nothing to the stories about nationalization of women."

"Immorality among the young is the order. Much of this is due to the half million war children. The world war, then the war between the reds and whites, and then the famine, rendered at least 500,000 children orphans. They grew up like wild animals—still are growing that way. They slept in the fields, in the streets—anywhere. They got their living by stealth, so they are expert pickpockets. They had to steal to live, and they are still doing it."

Escape From Orphanage.
"Some of them were put in castles converted into orphan asylums, but the restraint irked them and they escaped to rejoin their comrades of the streets and fields. I have seen hundreds of boys and girls sleeping huddled together in the gutters. Men and women sleep there, too, sometimes tightly packed together to keep warm. They have become inured to cold and this condition exists even in winter."
"Many of the aristocracy who weren't killed or couldn't get away are to be seen begging on the streets, coming into restaurants and asking a crust of bread. A former nobleman, wearing a tattered uniform and medals given him by the czar, is a news peddler."
"I had to pay $25 a day for a room with a bathtub which had three inches of dirt on it and no running water. Coffee can't be had, as it cannot be imported."

Clothes Are Home Made.
"The women make their own clothing. They have no silk stockings and silk can't be imported. The men can hardly afford to buy clothes, so they don't until their rags fall off them. They don't undress to sleep and a change of underwear is unheard of."
"Despite this kind of living they have the finest operas and plays. I have never seen better acting or heard better music. The government has retained every work of art, and hundreds of millions of dollars worth of solid gold articles are being preserved because of their beauty."
"The dream of Russia is that in fifteen or twenty years it will be a modern Eutopia; that the country will be built up and its wealth conserved so that in that time every one will be living in luxury, everybody wealthy, everybody happy, everybody equal, one class—with neither brains nor brawn giving their possessor any advantage. They really think this will come about."

operators average $15 a week more than this. Small theaters pay $80. By both the theater owners and the union it is estimated that all the 653 operators average nearly $100 a week. Musicians, also, have many extras, which have been added to their contracts from time to time, it was stated. For instance, an organist's base pay is $75, but he gets a bonus of $7 because he plays alone.
An orchestra member in a deluxe theater has a base pay of $85. In addition he gets $4 for a two hour rehearsal, $14 for appearing on the stage and $3.50 for wearing a costume, whether it be his own, turn or the theater owner's period costume.

No Reduction Demanded.
"But we are not fighting to reduce any wages," Mr. Balaban said. "We only want a fair break. We want some assurance that we will not be forced to do things we don't want to do without any recourse to arbitration or anything else. We are not unfriendly to the unions; we want justice and we are going to get it regardless of what it costs."
He added that not more than thirty theaters in Chicago could show as much profit as a stage hand's wage and that it seemed likely at least 20 per cent of the showhouses would go into receiverships within six months.
Picket Springfield Theaters.
Springfield, Mo., Sept. 1.—(P)—Picketing of theaters began here tonight, as the "strike" of motion picture operators, stage hands and musicians assumed the appearance of a lockout. After a day of conferences, the demand of the workers dwindled from a general increase of $5 a week for operators to an increase of $1.75 a week for two operators, but the theater owners still refused to sign new agreements. The strike had spread to theaters at Carthage, Mo., also, according to reports reaching here.

Strike in Sedalia.
Sedalia, Mo., Sept. 1.—(P)—This city of 21,000 population was without movies tonight as members of the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees struck for an increase in wages.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Holders of more than $9,000,000 in federal farm loan bonds have failed to present them for redemption and since May 1 have been losing interest at an aggregate rate of more than $1,000 a day.
Eugene Meyer, farm loan commissioner, announced today that this amount of bonds was still out despite every effort to spread the information that all the outstanding issues of 1917, 1918 and 1919 had been called in.

BELIEVE SLAIN MAN CONSPIRED OWN DEATH

Insurance Murder Victim
Alleged "Crossed."

New York, Sept. 1.—[Special.]— Leftowitz, an east side bus-nessman, who was the beneficiary of double indemnity insurance on the life of Benjamin Goldstein, 22 years old, and for whose drowning he and his wife are held, "double crossed"
Goldstein, it was said today by Attorney Dodd of Brooklyn.
A conspiracy existed between them from the time Goldstein was insured by a pretended drowning. Left-owitz, Mr. Dodd said, had agreed with Goldstein that the latter should fall from a rowboat in Gravesend bay, whereupon Leftowitz would pick him up in a motorboat, and then put in a claim for the insurance, which was to be divided equally between them. Mr. Dodd removed this information from Goldstein, a brother of the dead

Left to His Fate.
Leftowitz, Mr. Dodd said, went to bay on Friday morning
the drowning occurred, possibly to carry out an arrangement. Instead of taking the motorboat, which he bought two days previously to pick up Goldstein, he remained on the shore while his fellow conspirator was overboard and as the youth
for the last time calmly walked

Mr. Dodd said he received the information that Leftowitz was at the house of Mrs. Josephine Aluska, who lived in a bungalow in the Gravesend section of Brooklyn. Her house was the place where Leftowitz lived, she said, and had seen him with Goldstein. She heard Goldstein's wife say, she said, looked out of the window and saw a man who she said was Leftowitz standing on the shore, staring out in the bay.
The wife of two men rowing ashore
she said, joined Leftowitz.

Supports Confession.
Mr. Dodd termed this new evidence the most important he had received, supporting the confessions of Irving Rubin, 30, who said he pushed Goldstein from the rowboat and received $50 for it, and Harry Greenberg, who was in the rowboat with Rubin, and said Rubin
not only pushed Goldstein
overboard, but also threatened to
"hang him off" if he tried to help

The evidence, Mr. Dodd said, exposed what seemed to be a strange and Leftowitz had ever Goldstein
during the four years of a "business association" in which three ventures were disastrous—two bankruptcies and one in which Goldstein rarely lost money but was always hopeful and would not, despite many promises to his family, break what seemed to be an old relationship with the older man. Leftowitz is 42.
Leftowitz, Rubin and Greenberg were held without bail today in the homicide court by Magistrate Mc-Carthy, charged with murder.

6 MEN KILLED AS THEY STRING PHONE WIRES

Dubois, Pa., Sept. 1.—[U. P.]—
Thirty-three thousand volts of electricity killed five men in a blinding flash near here today. A few moments later another man gave his life trying to save them.
Only two members of a crew of eight employees of the Pennsylvania Public Service corporation, which set out to string a telephone line under high tension wires near Tully, Jefferson county, returned to recount the deaths of six.

The dead were Warren Barnett, the line foreman; Raymond Curry, his brother-in-law; David Dunmire, Floyd
Shafer, Blair Joyner, and Raymond Smith.

The party left Punxsutawney during the morning to string a private telephone line for the Pennsylvania company.

Smith, in trying to aid the men,
was himself electrocuted and died later.

SEYFERLICH SAYS HE'S SLATED FOR DUSTER AS CHIEF

But Fire Commissioner
Denies It's True.

Three conflicting statements left the city hall in quandary last night as to rumors that Fire Chief Arthur R. Seyferlich is the next city official slated to resign.

Chief Seyferlich himself announced that he was notified a week ago by Fire Commissioner Albert W. Goodrich that he will not be reappointed at the end of his sixty day temporary appointment which expires next Wednesday. Mr. Goodrich denied the report, while Mayor Thompson stated that if fire losses do not come down, there is "going to be something done" in the fire department.

Chief Believes He's to Go.

"All I know is that when I returned to duty from the hospital a few days ago, Mr. Goodrich told me I would be out next week," explained the chief. "He gave me no reason but I suppose he meant what he said."

Told of Chief Seyferlich's statement an hour later, Commissioner Goodrich said, "That report is not true. There is not going to be any change in the appointment." Mr. Goodrich declined to tell inquiries anything further.

Meanwhile, the mayor from his office issued a statement as follows: "When I was mayor before, I cut the fire losses in two. They doubled under Dever. Fire losses are too high and they must come down or there will be something doing in the fire department. I am interested only in one thing and that is efficient fire protection for which the taxpayers' money is being spent."

A Fireman for 37 Years.

Seyferlich is 58 years old and has been in the department for 37 years. He rose through the ranks of assistant marshal and was named chief in 1923. With the advent of Mayor Dever in 1923 he was superseded by Chief Edward J. Buckley but was reappointed upon Buckley's death five months later and has been chief since that time.

BOLSTER PATROL ALONG LAKES ON 2 STATE BORDERS

Louman Worried by Canada Rum Leak.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Concerned over liquor smuggling along the Canadian boundary, Assistant Secretary Louman, in charge of prohibition enforcement, announced today that the number of agents at Detroit would be increased from twenty to fifty and that "a substantial increase" would be made without delay in the border patrol between Erie, Pa., and Toledo, O.

Larger Erie Force.

This announcement, coming closely on the one made yesterday that the patrol along the eastern border boundary would be increased to 400 men, double its present strength, followed conferences with Thomas E. Stone, administrator for the newly created Michigan district, and Arthur P. Fenton, collector of customs at Cleveland.

Louman agreed to Fenton's request that a larger force be necessary to watch the 224 miles in the latter's territory. The additional agents will be drawn from surrounding states.

Expenditures for enforcement of the prohibition law in Michigan will be increased by more than $100,000, it was estimated at the treasury.

Discusses Criticisms of Lyle.

Pending return of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of liquor law prosecutions, the treasury investigation of prohibition conditions in Oregon and Washington will be held in abeyance.

Lyle was summoned here for an explanation of alleged demoralized conditions in his district and to answer assertions that he was "weak" in supervision of his personnel.

Dry leaders in the state of Washington are opposing Lyle's suspension and indorsements of his record have been received from Senator Jones, the state Anti-Saloon league, and the Woman's Christian Temperance union.

Lyle intends to remain here until after Mrs. Willebrandt takes up the reported charge.

for fireworks. He seems all set to open fire on Senators Watson and Robinson, Gov. Jackson and others.

To return to the Lord Chief Justice of England, he declared communism will never get a foothold in America or Great Britain.

Lands Incorruptible Judges.

"Where there are just laws, aided without fear or favor," he said, "by impartial and incorruptible judges, there is not much cause to fear popular outbreaks or revolution. It is principally for that reason that the treacherous propaganda of communism, so dangerous in many other countries, can have little effect in the United States or Great Britain."

"It is beyond the imagination of any sane person that Americans or Englishmen would wish to change their free institutions for the tyranny by which the people of Russia are, after a fashion, ruled."

He dwelt upon the difference between a written constitution as in America and the British constitution, and said our system with the Supreme court as guardian is a great safeguard against hasty and ill considered innovation.

"In these days of democracy and almost universal adult suffrage," he declared, "only time will tell whether the supremacy of parliament in England, without securities against hasty changes in the law of the constitution is or is not a real danger."

Mulling this over in terms of prohibition, and using Canada and the United States for comparison on the wet and dry issue, some delegates later debated it pro and con, in the lobby talk.

The newspapers of Britain were discussed by Lord Chief Justice Hewart who referred to recent concentration of strings of papers under one owner, "Thirty years ago," he said, "there were already signs in many newspaper offices of a contest for supremacy between those who called the editorial department on one side and the business on the other. During the interval the contest seems to have been decided, and in an enormous number of cases decided in favor of the business department."

"Side by side with this it is impossible to observe another development—namely the systematic and growing concentration of the control of a great number of newspapers under one and the same hand."

Critics Chafe Newspapers.

A multi-millionaire, it would seem, presses a button in his office, or his smoking room, or his bedroom, and straightway the nominal heads of a whole group of newspapers stand to attention and within a few hours each one of these newspapers, purporting in every case to represent an authentic and individual opinion, asserts or denies, attacks or defends, displays or suppresses, magnifies or disparages in accordance with the will or the whim of the invisible dictator.

"Well, there is no law at present to prevent newspapers from being treated as mere commercial commodities, as if they were so much soap or oil or tinned meat. But, what becomes of the dignity of the press and the claims of the public? And can newspapers be heard to say that these things really do not matter if nobody any longer is ready to accept a newspaper's statements or is willing to pay attention to its opinions? Here, too, there is need, is there not, for unceasing vigilance?"

At the election tomorrow Sir H. Strawn is said to be assured of being chosen as president of the Bar association.

DRY AGENTS HOLD 75 IN RUM RAIDS AT SOUTH BEND

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Thirty-two federal prohibition agents, directed by George L. Winkler, deputy federal prohibition director for Indiana, swooped down upon South Bend today, arresting about seventy-five soft drink parlor and roadhouse proprietors and bartenders on charges of liquor law violation.

The raid was said to be the largest conducted in Indiana since the advent of the Volstead law. All of those arrested were taken to the St. Joseph county jail, pending arrangements for bonds of $5,000 each, which they must provide for temporary freedom.

The raiders met yesterday at Indianapolis, where plans were made. The entire force moved to Plymouth, near here, going in bunches so as to avert suspicion and "tip-offs." The entire city was mapped out, squads were apportioned off, and every soft drink parlor, roadhouse and "speakeasy" in South Bend was visited.

CHICAGOANS ACT TO BRING G. O. P. CONVENTION HERE

George F. Geta, chairman of the executive committee of Mayor Thompson's advisory committee, said yesterday that the effort to bring the Republican national convention to Chicago next year will get under way next week.

Allen F. Moore, national committeeman from Illinois, Mr. Geta said, has been cooperating with the mayor's workers and it has been agreed that the first step will be a letter to all members of the national committee asking for their views on Chicago as the convention city. That letter is being prepared.

George E. Brennan, Democratic national committeeman, said that although he hopes his party's nominators will convene here, he has fears that San Francisco will put up a big fight to get the meeting.

I've found a new soap that soaks out stains

I NEVER saw clothes get clean so easily—and so safely!

I just soak my week's wash in the rich, mild Rinso suds. Rinso soaks out the dirt and stains. They float right off by themselves, and I haven't a bit of hard rubbing to do.

Rinso is a different kind of laundry soap—granulated. It's so economical. It'll need on washday. No bar soaps, chips or powders. Rinso alone makes our water wonderfully sudsy.

It's so easy on my hands, too. They don't get red now, as they did with old-fashioned soaps and powders.

My friend tells me Rinso is great in her washer. The makers of 30 leading machines endorse it.

Beginning this Saturday, this Store will be open all day. This Monday (Labor Day) it will be closed.

ALDERMEN CARRY METER ISSUE TO U. S. NEXT WEEK

To Ask War Department What It Will Do.

Sixteen aldermen, who plan to make a junket to Washington to confer with war department officials on the water meter problem, were notified yesterday that the group will leave for the capital next Wednesday.

Under arrangements completed by Ald. John Clark, head of the delegation, with Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, the conference will take place Thursday morning. Accompanying the group will be Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe and probably representatives of the sanitary district and association of commerce.

The aldermen aim to ask the army engineers if they really mean to carry out their threat to revoke Chicago's like water withdrawal permit if the council repels the universal meter ordinance and substitutes Mayor Thompson's wastage control program.

Petition Also Going to Capital.
Reaching the capital a few days before the aldermen, however, will be a formal petition, prepared by Attorney Harry O. Blossat, the mayor's meter agent, asking for modification of the permit. Unless the engineers work extremely fast and act on the petition immediately, Blossat predicted yesterday, they will ask the councilmen to return home and await a reply.

Blossat said he has the petition almost completed and that it will probably be mailed today. It will set forth in detail Mayor Thompson's side of the meter case.

In connection with his study, Blossat has compiled figures showing that Chicago consumed, between 1920 and 1924, approximately 193 billion gallons of water per year, exclusive of water furnished free for park, fire, sprinkling, and similar services. At the end of 1924, about 100 billion gallons or 51 per cent of this total consumption were under meter.

Figures Meters in Service.
At that time, according to Blossat's figures, there were 87,200 meters in service, distributed according to type of building as follows:

Stores and shops	11,947
Business houses	5,775
Residences and apartments	29,818
Factories	4,617
Office buildings	877
Railroads	876
Laundries	810
Hotels	207
Theaters	231
Miscellaneous	4,967

Out of the 87,200 meters now installed, about 45,500 have a connection smaller than one inch, that is, are those of smaller consumers, while 15,400 are in service in manufacturing and commercial establishments and large apartment buildings. There are about 25,000 premises of the latter type, Blossat says, which should have meters. Mayor Thompson's plan calls for metering of all the big consumers and abolition of meters for small consumers.

Says Majority Oppose Meters.
"People who say meters are economical, however, should keep this in mind," he explained. "If any home owner wants a meter he can have it put in. The vast majority don't want them and we propose to repeal the law which says they have to install them regardless of their wishes."

Most of the meters in small homes have been installed in the far south side districts, particularly in Hegewich, which is metered practically 100 per cent. Many meters have also been put in the 7th, 10th and 18th wards, and a few elsewhere.

TO ASK REFERENDUM ON 5 CENT FARE FOR N. Y. TRANSIT LINES

New York, Sept. 1.—[Special.]—A referendum to determine whether the voters of the city favor the maintenance of the five cent fare on its proposed unified transit system or would have the fare reduced to three cents, was recommended by Samuel Untermyer, special counsel of the transit commission, in his report to the commission, it was learned today.

Mr. Untermyer, during the suspension of the transit hearings, devoted August to a study of the transit situation and has nearly completed his report, upon the basis of which the commission will prepare a unification plan.

In making the proposal for a referendum, Mr. Untermyer will make it clear in his report that a deficit in the city's new transit system is not expected.

DEMAND WIDER
ROOSEVELT ROAD
AT CRAWFORD

Petitions demanding the widening of Roosevelt road in the six block stretch from Crawford avenue west to the 4600 block were being circulated by business men of the district yesterday. They assert that unless this bottle neck is broken the value of Roosevelt road as a wide street east of Crawford avenue will be lost.

From the lake west to Crawford avenue, Roosevelt road is a wide thoroughfare along which traffic moves swiftly. At Crawford, where the street narrows to less than half the width to the east, there is a continuous jam of autos, trucks, street cars and pedestrians.

With the county placing emphasis on the widening of highways outside the city and the various projects under way within the city, business leaders of the Roosevelt road bottle neck area assert their predicament should be given immediate attention.

Their demands are being backed by road widening interests in Du Page county and western suburbs in addition to the Chicago Motor club.

PENN'S NEED OF
ITS BALLOT BOXES
IS REED PROBLEM

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 1.—(P.)—Disposition of the Allegheny county, Pa., ballot boxes and their contents will be question for the senate campaign funds committee to decide at its meeting at Chicago, Sept. 7, Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, chairman, declared today in commenting on the cent demand to the senate sergeant-at-arms to return the boxes or a claim for $6,400 for their replacement would be made.

The boxes, containing the ballots in the contested Vard-Wilson senatorial election, were impounded by the committee in Washington.

"The ballot boxes are there and are not going to be disturbed or their contents interfered with," Senator Reed said, "unless the committee shall be able to make some arrangement to remove the ballots in such a manner as to absolutely preserve their integrity. That, I am sure, the committee will endeavor to do and will do if possible when it meets in Chicago."

"There is, of course, no disposition to place any hardship on the election authorities of Pennsylvania."

Three Weeks Old Baby Found on Maywood Walk
A baby boy, three weeks old, was found lying on the sidewalk in front of 401 North 6th avenue, Maywood, yesterday. No clue to the identity of the child could be found.

COMPANIES MUST MOVE CONDUITS, SUBWAY RULING

Breen Says Expense Is on Utilities Concerns.

Public utility companies with pipes, wires, and conduits under the streets must bear the full expense of removing that equipment to make way for the subway, Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen is convinced after a study of the statutes.

In written opinions rendered yesterday, Mr. Breen declared that Supreme court rulings clearly indicate that such expenses cannot be added to the subway rental and indirectly added upon the car rider. Because the laws are so clear, he said, it is not necessary to cover the matter in the new transit bills being prepared by a council subcommittee.

The Telephone Problem.
The Chicago Telephone company, under its present grant, agrees, when directed, to remove at its own expense "all underground wires, cables, electrical conductors, conduits, etc., from any public street in which any subway is to be constructed," Mr. Breen pointed out. A similar provision is in the ordinance of the Peoples Gas company.

The latest and clearest Supreme court decision on the point, he says, came last spring when the court held that the south side surface lines must pay $300,000 to relocate their tracks when 23d street was widened.

In this case, said Mr. Breen, the court included all types of utilities within the rule announced and did not confine its holdings to street railways.

Applies to Subways.
"It appears, therefore, that the rule is universally recognized," says the Breen opinion. "That it applies to subway construction we have no doubt. The construction of a subway by the city for local transportation is merely the creation of additional street capacity and in local effect the same as a street widening. It is, for all practical purposes, a local improvement."

The subway bill, together with the four other new transit bills, is to be put into final form at a meeting of the subcommittee next week and then presented to the full transportation committee as a basis of negotiations with the transit companies.

4 Stricken After Eating Sandwiches at Roadhouse
South Chicago police last night investigated the poisoning of four people taken violently ill after eating corn beef sandwiches at a roadside inn.

They are Mrs. Helen Pyrek, 78 years old; her son, Hippolyte Pyrek, 344 South Shore drive, a real estate dealer; his son, Arthur, aged 13, and John Sobolewski, 50, of 8701 Houston avenue. All were said to be recovering.

3 Chicago Hunters Shot; All in Hospital, 1 May Die

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 1.—[Special.]—One Chicago hunter, so seriously hurt he may die, and two others suffering from wounds are in a hospital here today after a shotgun was accidentally discharged in the automobile in which the trio was riding to a farm near here in quest of squirrels.

The injured are Baldo Digitalano, 2449 North Washburne avenue, shot in the groin, chest and head; Andrew Lattina, 5823 South Turner avenue, and Paul Frylo, 3449 North Washburne avenue, shot in the legs. The men were taken to a hospital here by John Constanto, a friend riding in another car.

Trio Swindles Woman Out of $500 in Gem Deal
The faith in expert advice held by Mrs. Anna Rosen, 2891 Jackson boulevard, was somewhat shattered yesterday when a trio of affable strangers swindled her out of $500 on a deal in diamonds. The first man entered her grocery store to ask if the place was for sale. While they talked the second approached, seeking a loan on his diamond rings. Then the third happened to step in and he turned out to be an "expert" on diamonds. He advised Mrs. Rosen that the deal was safe. After her check came back cashed she found the rings were set with imitation stones.

GERMANY PAYS REPARATIONS IN FULL FOR YEAR

Total Paid Under Dawes Plan $930,000,000.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BERLIN, Sept. 1.—With the payment this morning of $5,000,000 marks ($1,000,000) Germany completed its 1,000,000,000 marks ($200,000,000) reparations payment for the year, and marked the third anniversary of the Dawes plan. Germany paid 1,000,000,000 marks ($200,000,000) the first year and 1,250,000,000 marks ($250,000,000) the second year, so the total payments officially received by Seymour Gilbert, reparations agent, are $1,000,000,000.

Germany has her own way of accounting. According to the German statistics, Germany has delivered money worth a total value of more than $12,000,000,000 since the day of the armistice.

Don't Keep It Up, Say Some.
And today, the same as last year and the year before, numerous German politicians and newspapermen are going up the cry that Germany cannot pay and faces economic disaster if it continues.

Germany's claim that more than $12,000,000,000 reparations payments have been made is based on deliveries in kind, such as cattle, agricultural machinery, construction materials, the bulk of Germany's merchant marine, railroads, automobiles, the reconstruction of the University of Louvain, cables, stocks and bonds confiscated by foreign countries, the Saar Valley mines, and other confiscated property.

Others Put It at $5 Billion.
Some Germans claim Germany has paid $15,000,000,000 because they count the cash given to the army of occupation, the value of the German war effort destroyed since the armistice and all internal disarmament, which total more than $3,000,000,000.

Prof. Hugo Brentano's figures on Germany's payments are taken, the press is even more than $15,000,000,000. At any rate, every one agrees that Germany has made tremendous payments and today marks the anniversary of a great national effort.

CLAIMS LISTED AGAINST FOX RANCH CONCERN
Claims of $10,000 listed by twelve creditors have been made against the Los Silver Fox Ranch, Inc., with offices at 5 North Wabash avenue, it was announced yesterday by Chester A. Willoughby, receiver in bankruptcy.

It is expected that total claims against the concern may exceed $100,000, Willoughby said.
The concern is said to have advertised silver fox ranches throughout the entire country and told of huge returns for small investments. E. C. Fitch, president of the concern, is being, according to Willoughby.

SECRET SESSION MARKS OPENING OF LEAGUE MEET

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
GENEVA, Sept. 1.—The forty-sixth session of the league of nations council, opening today, immediately went into secret session, presumably to discuss the council's and assembly's agenda, but actually to work out some kind of solution for the Danzig disputes with Poland.

At the same time private pourparlers were carried out between Sir Austen Chamberlain and Gustav Stresemann, pending Aristide Briand's arrival tomorrow, when the Rhineland occupation will be uppermost and the trading will begin.

It is becoming more apparent daily that the big fight in the league will center around two questions—disarmament and the council's reform.

The small powers are determined to contest Sir Austen's, M. Briand's and Herr Stresemann's desire to eliminate one yearly session, while the election of these new seats will be bitterly fought.

Finland is scheduled to succeed Czechoslovakia, although Herr Stresemann is advocating Denmark. Argentina will be elected to succeed Salvador.

On disarmament it is apparent that the British will attempt to use the United States as the reason for their refusal to lower armaments.

SAYS WORLD WAR HOLDS DELUSION AS U. S. LESSON

Sumnerall Points Out the Unusual Conditions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—America's world war experiences cannot be depended upon as guides in the preparation of future war plans, according to Maj. Gen. Charles F. Sumnerall, chief of staff, addressing the officers gathered here today in the first assembly of the 1927-28 army war college class.

Reviewing the events of 1911 after the United States declared war on the central powers, the general asserted that it cannot be expected that in a future war in which this country is engaged allies will block the enemy for more than a year and at the same time supply us with essential munitions while we organized armies.

"Rather," continued Gen. Sumnerall, "must we visualize war as coming suddenly without our desire or expectation and in spite of every course of action to avoid it. Our maximum effort will be demanded immediately. It is the requirement of the impossible that must be remembered that war is a game of impossibilities. Victory comes to the side that can nearest make them possible."

Requires Specialized Training.
"No inspiration will accomplish this. By your training, the principles that will guide you in solving problems and well thought out general and special plans by the staff, and in turn by you, we can hope to realize a maximum of success."

"Whether the enemy strikes on our mainland territory or overseas, we must pour soldiers into the theater of operations and into the battle line," continued the general. "In the end it must be soldiers with rifles who will turn the balance in our favor."

The general outlined his advocacy of the adoption of a universal draft policy which would summon both men and material resources to the country's defense in emergency, and declared that in the next conflict "every procedure must be based upon the acceptance by the people and the government of the basic proposition that the whole nation is in the war and not the armed forces alone."

National Militarism Impossible.
"We have never fought a war with trained or equipped troops and we never shall do so," asserted the general. "It is inconsistent with our form of government and the psychology of our people to maintain adequate military preparedness. They would rather pay the price that has followed every war than spend a part of the amount in preserving peace."

"In the future, therefore, as in the past, we shall fight with partially trained and partially equipped troops. However apathetic in peace, neither the government nor the people would accept delay when the enemy was invading our border or killing our soldiers overseas. The means of our speed in dispatching units and replacements must be the readiness of our regular army and National Guard and the time to make the draft law effective."

History will record, according to Gen. Sumnerall, as one of the outstanding achievements of the small regular army, its raising, organizing and training of four million men and the leading of half that number in battle.

Where Regular Army Was Blessing.
"So effectively was this task accomplished," continued Gen. Sumnerall, "that our troops not only returned victorious, but they were demobilized expeditiously without the scandals and investigations that had formerly marred the achievements of our arms."

"The vision of a different kind of war from that of 1917 must be extended to mobility and combat. It will not again be justifiable to exhaust infantry by long marches when they can be transported by motor vehicles, nor can we conceive a repetition of the slaughter of our assault battalions when the enemy's organization in attack or defense can be shattered by bombing and attack planes and by tanks.

"Semi-automatic rifles must give the infantryman the necessary volume of fire and increased range and power of artillery must afford more effective support. Thus alone can be accomplished the battle phases of neutralizing the enemy by fire and exploiting his position afterwards by the infantry."

Prohibition Prisoner Is Pardoned by Coolidge
Reno, Nev., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Francis McDough, serving a one year sentence for violation of the prohibition laws, left the Ormsby county jail today, pardoned by President Coolidge. He had been ill since June.

McDough was so overcome when the pardon was read to him yesterday that he suffered a heart attack and a physician was called to revive him.

DUVALL APPOINTS STEPHENSON MAN CHIEF OF POLICE

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Claude M. Worley, formerly chief of detectives, was named head of the Indianapolis police department today, after members of the board of safety had resigned in a huff in refusing to carry out the wishes of Mayor John L. Duvall regarding the appointment. A new board was named by the mayor and the appointment of Worley was effected.

Observers see in the move a virtual consummation of a contract which Duvall is alleged to have had with D. C. Stephenson, former leader of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana, that Worley would be named chief of police. When Duvall became mayor it was reported Worley would be made chief of police, but instead he was named chief of detectives. He resigned a few weeks ago after the board of safety had reduced him to the rank of lieutenant.

A short time later it was reported Duvall related and offered to make him chief of police.

FERNEKES' PAL MAKES HIS BOND, QUILTS JAIL CELL

CRIMINAL COVER.
Fred Collins, inmate, sentenced to 1 year in the Midway, by Judge William J. Lusk.

Daniel McGeoghagan, alleged pal of Henry J. (Middle) Fernakes, walked from the county jail yesterday, a free man for the time being at least. A few months ago he, with Fernakes and John Flannery, was waiting in the jail for the time of his execution.

Fernakes, Flannery, and McGeoghagan were convicted of the murder of Michael Swinokowski, treasurer of a building and loan association. After a wait of over a year the Supreme court reversed the finding of the Criminal court and remanded the case for a new trial. The higher court, however, held that much of the state's evidence would be inadmissible in a new trial, and as a result the state dismissed entirely the charge against Fernakes, who is now serving a bank robbery to life sentence for a bank robbery.

DR. WISE CALLS BRITAIN SLACK IN AID TO PALESTINE

BASLE, Switzerland, Sept. 1.—[Jewish Telegraphic Agency.]—At today's session of the fifteenth Zionist congress criticisms were heaped on Zionist leadership and on the British authorities for the present conditions in Palestine.

The demand that Dr. Weismann resign and that an administrative board be elected by the congress was voiced by Deputy Isaac Gurenbau.

Stephens Wise, spokesman of the American Zionists, upheld Dr. Weismann's leadership, but criticized the handling of the Palestine mandate. "The fact that the Palestine government was able last year to show a surplus of $5,000,000 is discrediting to a government of a country whose population went through such a severe crisis as the one prevailing in Palestine," Dr. Wise said. "It is the duty of Zionist leadership to urge the mandatory power to take a greater part in facilitating the operation of the Jewish national home in Palestine."

EUROPE'S LESSON TO OUR FARMERS IS TO CO-OPERATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] PARIS, Sept. 1.—G. H. Thompson, president of the American farm bureau federation, addressing the American club of Paris today, summed up the conclusions he gained from the trip of the American farmers' delegation through Europe as essentially a problem of cooperation.

"I mean cooperation not only among the farmers, but with other basic industries and business," said Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Thompson said efficient marketing methods would be the farmers' main objective, declaring cooperative marketing was sound in principle, but difficult to apply in the United States, which has 6,000,000 farmers, equal to the whole population of some European countries.

Mr. Thompson was applauded by the assembled American bankers and business men. Once he was interrupted by the question: "How're you gonna keep 'em down on the farm after they've seen Paris?"

FIREMAN OF COAL TRAIN IS KILLED; 2 ARRESTS MADE

Miner Official Held for Coshocton Fracas.

St. Clairsville, O., Sept. 1.—(AP)—William Henderson, a Negro, and John Heelo were in jail tonight while authorities continued an investigation of the killing today of A. J. McGee, a Baltimore, and Ohio railroad fireman. McGee was shot from ambush in the cab of his engine which was pulling a train loaded with coal in the non-union field in West Virginia. Union sympathizers have been active in the area where the shooting occurred. More than twenty-five shots were fired at two sections of the train.

Attack and Arrests at Coshocton. COSHOCTON, Ohio, Sept. 1.—(AP)—F. J. Bender, secretary of sub-district No. 4, United Mine Workers, and five union sympathizers, were bound over to the county grand jury this afternoon on charges of assault on non-union miners near here today. The six men pleaded not guilty and Bender was freed on a $1,000 bond.

Charges Strike Was Paid For. Springfield, Ill., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Proof of a concerted attempt to stop work in all union mines now operating in Illinois under a separate wage scale agreement may be revealed through evidence being collected by the United Mine Workers of Illinois, union officials, it was learned today.

President Harry Fishwick of the miners' union said evidence showed that miners who helped incite the "wildcat" strike at Edinburg were paid with "the same money" that paid for a similar revolt in a Centralia mine.

Industry Not Disturbed. Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—(Special)—Little disturbance to industry as a whole has resulted from the bituminous coal strike, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reported today as the result of a survey made by its department of natural resources.

Gradual increase in coal production on a nonunion basis is noted. It is observed that a development of the present strike has been a trend toward splitting into a series of sectional controversies instead of maintaining a national aspect as in former suspensions.

The absence of alarm on the part of the general public and industry, as indicated in the report, reflects the feeling of government officials in touch with the situation.

In reporting conditions in the various states the Chamber of Commerce states that in Illinois, a strong union district, operations have virtually ceased; that in Indiana, also a strong union district, some operators have signed up with the union and a few are working on the open shop basis, with the result that production is two-thirds of normal; that in Ohio, also a union district, a few operators are working on an open shop basis and production is about 30 per cent of normal.

PARENTS ASK SEARCH FOR GIRL MISSING SINCE WEDNESDAY

The parents of Josephine Miksk, 13 years old, 1830 South Alport street, appealed to the police last night to help find the girl. She was at Dvorak park, 10th and May streets, with other girls and boys on Wednesday night and failed to return home.

Josephine finished the sixth grade at the Jirka school last June and was ready to return to it next week. Her father, who is employed at the National Bank of the Republic, says she appears to be about 17 years old.

Neighbors told the family they had observed a dirty automobile containing three young men driving around the Miksk home and alley yesterday afternoon. The car circled the block several times, it was said, and the occupants appeared to be watching the Miksk residence.

GARAGE FIRE LOSS $1,000. Two wrecks were damaged and a quantity of lumber burned yesterday in a blaze that swept through a garage at 1016 North Clark street causing damage estimated at $1,000.

WATSON WOULD ANSWER PARTY'S CALL, HE SAYS

Rocheater, Minn., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Senator James H. Watson of Indiana "would be glad to accept the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1928," he was quoted in an interview here today.

"No man under heaven would turn it down if offered to him," the senator said, but he would not commit himself when asked if he expected to campaign for the nomination.

"It is too early as yet. All that I can say is that there will be six or eight or maybe more in the race for the nomination and the Republicans will choose a man who will best represent the party."

THREATEN GIRLS AS BANDITS LOOT AUTO CO. OFFICE

Five youthful robbers entered the office of the Ray O'Connell Motor Sales company at 4625 West Madison street yesterday afternoon and forced two girls employees to surrender $500 and checks for a total of $600.

Edna Foley, 130 North Keeler avenue, and Evelyn Newman, 440 North Roman avenue, the employees, were threatened with death unless they handed over the money. The men escaped in an automobile.

MICHIGAN AVE. TO GET A BATH EACH MORNING

Under a tri-party agreement between the city, the south and Lincoln park wards, which control segments of this strip of avenue, the pavement is to be flushed early every morning. City flushers will do the work, the expense to be divided proportionately.

The flushing agreement was brought about through the efforts of the Michigan Avenue Association, which also is promoting other movements to beautify the avenue.

Silly Sentimentality

I'm sure you don't do it—but try not to let anybody else do it, either. I mean make remarks that inject silly sentimentality into childlike affectionate relations. The inflections and smirks and side glances that accompany these remarks make children self-conscious, and put ideas into their heads that don't belong there at all.

"Who's your sweetie, Jimmy?"

"Is that your boy friend, Molly?"

"See her blush—ain't she cute?"

Such things said often enough give an unnatural color to wholesome little boy, little girl friendships.

Sometimes things look to the sophisticated eyes of people with only a superficial understanding of children, as if they must be caused by the same feeling that would motivate a grown person. But they're not.

A little girl of about 5 received a letter from a little boy several years older than herself. She dearly loved the letter and when she saw he had written the letter entirely himself and that the picture was drawn by him, too, she was filled with delight.

That night when her mother went to tuck her in for the last time, she heard a little crackle, and there was the letter under her little daughter's pillow.

To the sentimentalist that would be "so sweet, just as if she were grown up and had gotten a love letter."

We all know that under the pillow is one of childhood's favorite treasure-keeping places, a spot where they don't want to be separated from them even for a night—the pet jack-knife, a special kind of string, a round stone like a peppermint drop, a new flashlight, a little brush for the doll's hair, a small bottle of glue—or a letter. They're all the same kind of treasure to the children.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Floating Island.

That ancient dessert, floating island, has received considerable attention this summer, including a news item sent broadcast by the Associated Press. If the reporter quoted the recipe correctly—giving the ancient proportions of one quart of milk, one-half cup of sugar, five or six eggs—the one who supplied it hadn't brought it up to date. The milk and sugar, one-eighth teaspoon of salt, according to these directions, are heated, the whites of eggs beaten and dropped into the hot milk to set. Then they are skimmed off and put aside until the custard is made of the egg yolks into which is poured the hot sweetened milk, then a little cooking is necessary—fill the custard coats the spoon. The final directions for this custard were a little unusual: It said remove this at once and place the pan in a bowl of cold water, stirring until cool. Then add flavoring, chill, and serve in individual glasses.

In this recipe no account is taken of the fact that when the blobs of white of egg are dropped into the hot milk present they will swell greatly; therefore it would have to be an exceedingly broad and shallow pan for the milk, if all of the beaten whites of five or six eggs were dropped in at once. It is better to cook two or three, only, at a time.

Floating island used sometimes to be called snow pudding. It also has other names. We ran across one the other day with the title "work." It was to be made by exactly the same recipe that the reporter presumably got from a government source. Dividing this in half, approximately, we may make a floating island for three people, as follows: One quart of milk, three eggs separated, six tablespoons of sugar (we think that this is none too much, although it is twice as much as the old recipes usually allow, but we like to sweeten the whites a little as well as the custard), and one-half teaspoon of vanilla added to the custard.

Heat the milk with part of the sugar, beat the whites of the eggs, and when stiff, add two tablespoons of sugar, and beat in. Poach the tablespoons of these beaten whites on top of the hot milk, turning them if you wish to. Beat the yolks with the rest of the sugar, add to hot milk, or pour hot milk over it and cook to a custard carefully. If, in the cooking, there should be the slightest evidence of separation, take from the fire immediately and whip with an egg beater.

Retaining a Schoolgirl Complexion

By VILMA BANKY

Only a true complexion soap is safe for your face

It is logical to expect a soap that I would be good for laundering or household work to be safe for your delicate skin? No, say experts—when beauty is at stake, take care!

Soap and water is the beauty rule of the day. A simple rule, based on nature's needs. But the soap you use must be a complexion soap, a soap that is kind to the skin, that embodies the cosmetic oils it needs. Any other would be too harsh.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its creamy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be naturally dry, apply a little good cold cream. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Do that regularly, and particularly before bed. Never let powder, rouge or make-up remain on your skin over night. Note how much better your skin is in even one week.

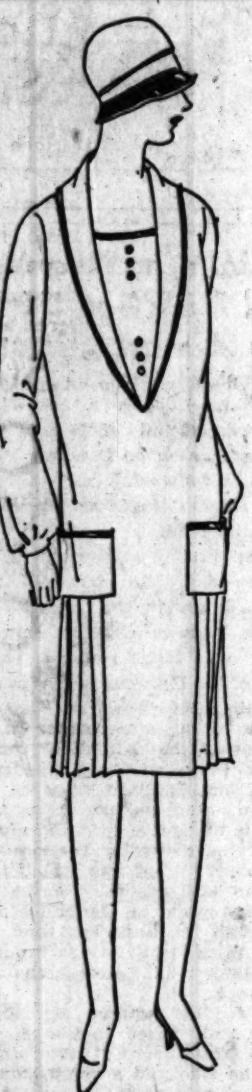

Get Palmolive today. Costs but 10c a cake. Use no other on your face. Be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Crude imitations, represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that and TAKE CARE. The Palmolive-Plant Co., Chicago.

Sports Coats Are Many and Varied

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK (Special Correspondence.)—There is no use trying to weed out our autumn coat styles. Year in and year out the trend represents the classic sports selection of the woman who can afford only one such garment. Certainly, too, if one's income is restricted one can make no better choice than this same tweed coat with its infinite readiness for all outdoor events.

Yet this autumn is bound to prove a strain upon those who, in the past, have been quite content with their solitary sports model. For there is a different kind of sports coat for every occasion and all of them are so tempting that we shall have to read our Emersons hard in order to resist 'em.

Today's model is eloquent of such

Clean Your Teeth this way for a month

Then try to go back to ordinary tooth-brushing and see how impossible it is to get ALL teeth ALL clean by the old method.

The Clean-Be-Tween is better than any "tooth brush." It adjusts to any position; reaches every tooth; cleans easily the hardest-to-get-at places; removes all food and foreign matter from between the teeth and makes the mouth surgically clean—so that infection and decay are practically impossible.

Once you use a Clean-Be-Tween instead of a "tooth brush," you will find it quite impossible to go back again to the ineffective old-style tooth brush which used to satisfy you.

The Clean-Be-Tween handle will last a lifetime. The brush heads are removable and adjustable. Refill brushes are only 25 cents each.

NANKING TROOPS CROSS YANGTZE TO PUSH VICTORY

BY JOHN POWELL.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

(Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune.)

SHANGHAI, China, Sept. 1.—The nationalist or southern Chinese armies

have crossed the Yangtze river and occupied the important city of Fukow, north of Nanking. The nationalists intend to pursue the defeated troops of

Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, the northern general allied to the Peking government, into Shantung province.

A drive by the southerners from

Hankow through Anhwei province forced Marshal Sun to order a general retreat to the north. He has evacuated most of northern Kiangsu province.

Menace Chang Tso-lin.

The magnitude of the nationalist victory over Marshal Sun Chuan-

fang, which is likely to shake the prestige of Marshal Chang Tso-lin,

the boss of Peking, is apparent from first hand eyewitness reports just received by Tsa Tzu-sun correspondent.

According to T. V. Soong, a Harvard graduate who is finance minister of the nationalist government and who observed the five day battle in the Nanking area, Marshal Sun sent 35,000 troops across the Yangtze river over a front of approximately fifty miles and extending on both sides of Nanking. Marshal Sun's troops consisted of seasoned Shantungites, well equipped and with promises of bonuses

in the event they were able to capture the nationalist capital, Nanking.

The southerners believed the capture of Nanking would enable them to take

Shanghai.

Get Northern Army's Plans.

According to Mr. Soong, the nationalists obtained a copy of Marshal Sun's plans and so dropped back from the river, permitting the northerners to cross and establish positions, which they then attacked.

A nationalist report from Nanking says that among those killed by the southerners was Gen. Li Pao-chien, former defense commissioner of Shanghai,

a subordinate of Marshal Sun, who gained notoriety last spring by his wholesale decapitation of Shanghai

students.

C. C. Wu, foreign minister of the Nationalist government, returned to Shanghai from Nanking today and announced that a general meeting of the central executive committee of the Kuomintang (Nationalist political party) on Sept. 15 to reorganize the Nationalist government following the amalgamation of the Nanking and Hankow factions and elimination of the communists.

Britain to Cut Force in China.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.—An important discussion took place in the cabinet on

Chinese policy recently immediately after Prime Minister Baldwin returned from Canada. A section of the cabinet wanted the British military forces in China increased and active help

given to Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Peking dictator, to enable him to establish himself as ruler of China, but a majority of the cabinet opposed this on the ground that the eastern situation was so threatening that it would be unwise to undertake any further commitments.

The decision taken, therefore, was to reduce the British force in China to one merely sufficient to protect Shanghai, which is estimated at fewer than 5,000.

Italy has decided to increase the accommodations for troops on the island of Rhodes, off the Turkish coast, from 15,000 to 35,000. It is hoped that the arrangements will be completed before winter so the troops can escape

the rigors of the south Italian winter.

It is also said Premier Mussolini has given his approval for the development of the island as a naval men's health resort.

PIRATES CROWD CUBS OUT OF FIRST PLACE, 4 TO 3

HEAD BRUNS BY ONE POINT IN TAG MARATHON

Chicagoans Outfit and Outfielded.

Stephenson Wins

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 1.—Biggs Stephenson, involved in the ninth round rally against the Pirates this afternoon, did not mention his promise in a couple of other spots, is awarded the Tribune's daily $10 prize for valuable service. He was the bigger with one out that would have won the Pirates in the final round. He also delivered a timely double, which had led off in the second with a pass, but nothing followed because Hack was tipped going to third. Stephenson also staged a top riding catch to start the rally when he went charging across the field to pull in Trayner's wicked line that was headed for the fence.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 1.—McCarthy's Cubs no longer gallop in the van of the National League parade and their hopes for a championship are rapidly going into eclipse. The narrow interval that remained of the first round completely vanished today when the Pirates drove them back in a hectic 4 to 3 battle to assume the role of pacemakers in the jumbled marathon by a single point.

The lead of four weeks' duration and with it the single game on which the hopes of the entire country was centered slipped away under the pressure of the new leaders' superiority. They hit the ball harder than their fading rivals, they felled brilliantly in at least a couple of spots where it hurt the invaders and they sailed along under the protection of good pitching by Lee Meadows.

Carlton Hit Hard in Second.

The Cubs gave the Pirates the best possible in the pitching line. Hal Johnson was elected at the start and he remained until a pinch hitter stepped in the eighth, but in the meantime numerous things had happened to him.

Second Pirate Knocks in the second round marked his first setback. Two runs came out of that. Another hit came rushing up with one more in the ninth, but meanwhile a tally off of Ray Bush in the eighth had given the Cubs the edge by which they won.

The whole show might have been different if it hadn't been for daisy plays in which the Cubs were stopped while the fight was still young. One of these happened in the second which started with a pass to Wilson. Stephenson followed with a single to center and it looked like an easy matter for Hack to make it third, but an unerring bullet from "Sprout" Waner cut him down. A possible rally died right there.

Then in the third Hartnett walked and permitted himself to be picked off. Back came through with a single and on Carlson's over, Adams, a tall and English single. This time Hack's arm came to turn back, but he was trying to dive safely into the plate.

Waner Family Starts Trouble.
One by the two Waner boys in the second round provided a hint that all would not go well with Carlson. He looked out of that right, but the crowd was different mainly because of his anxious to show something to the assembled comrades of the Eighteenth Division, hit one squarely. Grantham opened this attack with a slow roller that English couldn't get to. Then Harris came back in the third. He dropped close to the foul line and two bases, Grantham stopping at second. Gooch drove both of them home on an unmistakable single to right.

Man Harris came back in the third. He dropped close to the foul line and two bases, Grantham stopping at second. Gooch drove both of them home on an unmistakable single to right.

The old mark of 6:03.25 was held by Martha Norrell.

Agnes Geraghty accounted for the third mark when she shattered her own record of 1:21 for the 100 yard breast stroke by two-fifths of a second. Although she set a new record for the event, Miss Geraghty finished second in the race to Emma Shematits, of the I. W. A. C., who was allowed a four second handicap.

Eleanor Holm, of the W. S. A. C. of New York, with a six second handicap, was third. In a special 100 yard back stroke event Miss Norrell defeated her teammate, Miss Lindstrom, in 1:18.45.

Eleanor Holm won a special 120 yard medley swim from Emma Shematits by a touch in 1:24.25.

Mary Lou Quinn swam the 100 yard free style in 1:28.2 to defeat her I. W. A. C. teammates, Dagny Van Marth and Mary Shematits.

SEVEN RECEIVE PRIZE MONEY IN TORONTO SWIM

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The entire $50,000 offered as prize money in the 21 mile swimming marathon, which was won by Ernst Vierkotter of Germany last night, will be divided among the swimmers who finished and among the swimmers who went farthest. The distribution of prize money:

Ernst Vierkotter, $30,000; George Michel, Paris, $7,500; William Johnson, New York, $2,500; Mrs. Leslie Moore Schoonell, New York, $3,500; Ethel Bartel, New York, $2,000; Edith Rodin, Toronto, $1,000; Martha Stager, Portland, Ore., $1,500.

Only Vierkotter, Michel, and Erickson finished.

English Channel Beats Three More Swimmers

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 1.—(U. P.)—Three more efforts to swim the channel—two of them by women—failed today. Mrs. L. R. Weidman, widow of Jack Weidman, trainer of swimmers, entered the water here at 11 a. m. Three and a half hours later, six miles out, she collapsed and was brought ashore. Miss E. L. Marriott, who for some reason swam the channel of Miss Jane Darwin, lasted only two hours after she started at 12:30 p. m. Tonight came word that Guido Quintoli, Italian, had given up after having been in the water twenty hours.

Berlin Praises Winner

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Ernst Vierkotter's victory in the swimming marathon in Lake Ontario has caused great jubilation in German sporting circles. Vierkotter already was a hero through having swum the English channel.

Three American women's swimming records were broken last night in an invitational meet in the Illinois Women's Athletic club pool.

The first mark to go was in the 100 yard free style, when Miss Norrell stroked the old mark of 3:54.5 held by Ethel McGary. Miss McGary retained a few moments later when swimming alone, she set a new record of 3:53.25 for the 100 yard free style.
